

Dr. Veronica Stahl is an international expert and leader in the dental industry. She has delivered care and led teams of medical organizations that deliver optimum care for patients for 24 years. Her expertise in the fields of implantology, endodontics, and restorative dentistry are pivotal in Cannabite Lifelong project research and the applications of medical Cannabis in dentistry, which enable her and her team to drive a high impact organization of science-backed treatments.

With advanced studies in dentistry and more than 24 years of dental experience, Dr. Stahl currently works in Belgium and brings a wealth of knowledge and research on Cannabis to the startup CannIBite BVBA. She also spent 14 years working in Israel, which has become one of today's fastest-growing places for technology startups.

She currently practices dentistry at Euro Dent in the Flemish region of Belgium. Lately the startup won a Flemish governmental grant, based on the innovative research and findings.

Dr Stahl worked and is holding dental clinician licenses in several countries Israel, The Netherlands, United Kingdom and Belgium.
